

Types of Essay

- Descriptive
- Narrative
- Cause and Effect
- Compare and Contrast
- Process
- Expository
- Persuasive/Argumentative

Descriptive Essay

- provides details about how something looks, feels, tastes, smells, makes one feel, or sounds
- describe what something is, or how something happened
- could be a list-like description that provides point by point details

Narrative Essay

- tells a story
- conversational in style, and tells of a personal experience
- commonly written in the first person (uses I)
- tell of a single, life-shaping event, or simply a mundane daily experience

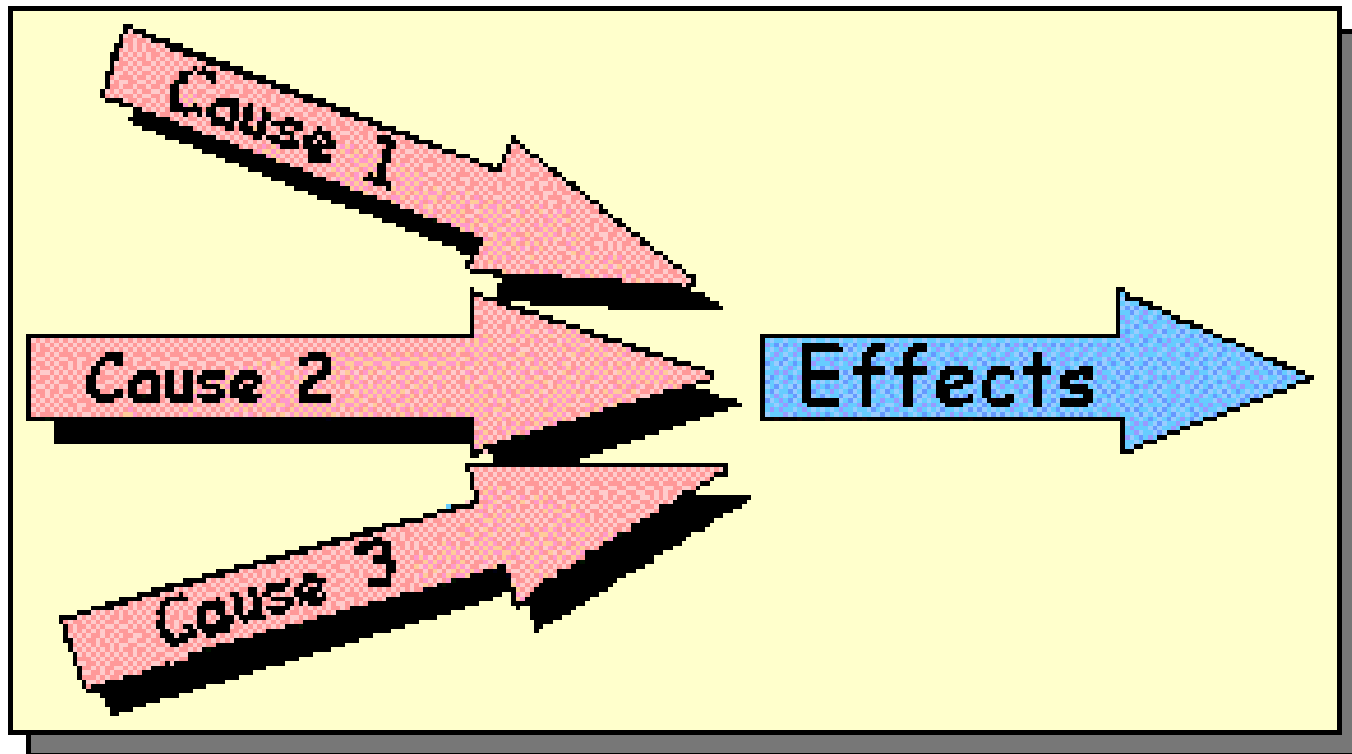

Narrative Essay

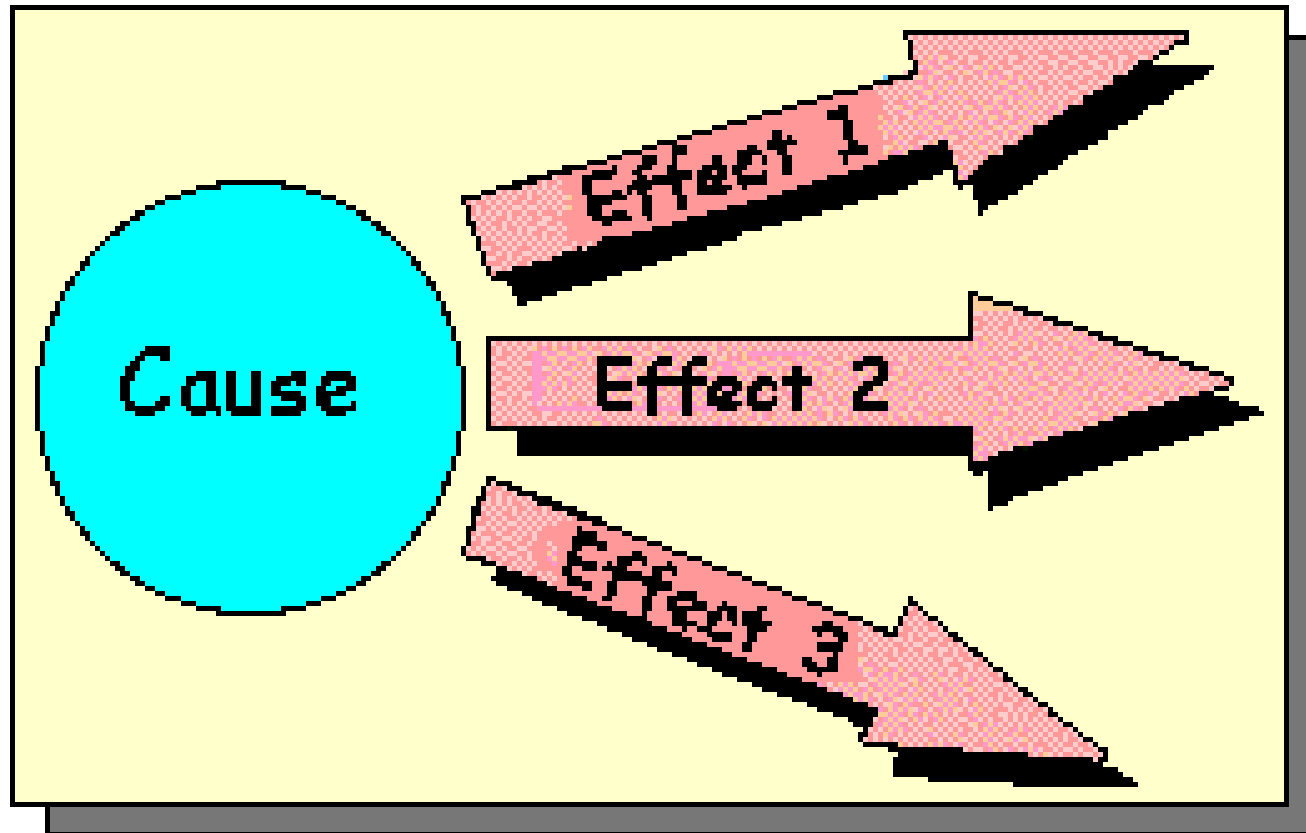

Some popular narrative essay topic examples:

- First Day at College
- The Moment of Success
- A Memorable Journey
- The Biggest Misunderstanding
- The Difficult Decision
- The Trip of Your Dreams
- The Day You Decided to Change Your Life

Cause and Effect Essay

- explains why or how some event happened, and what resulted from the event
- a study of the relationship between two or more events or experiences
- discuss both causes and effects, or it could simply address one or the other
- discuss the reasons why something happened
- discuss what happens after a specific event or circumstance

Compare and Contrast Essay

- discusses the similarities and differences between two things, people, concepts, places, etc
- be written simply to entertain the reader, or to arrive at an insight into human nature
- could discuss both similarities and differences, or it could just focus on one or the other
- A comparison essay usually discusses the similarities between two things, while the contrast essay discusses the differences

Compare and Contrast Essay

compare/contrast essay may discuss . . .

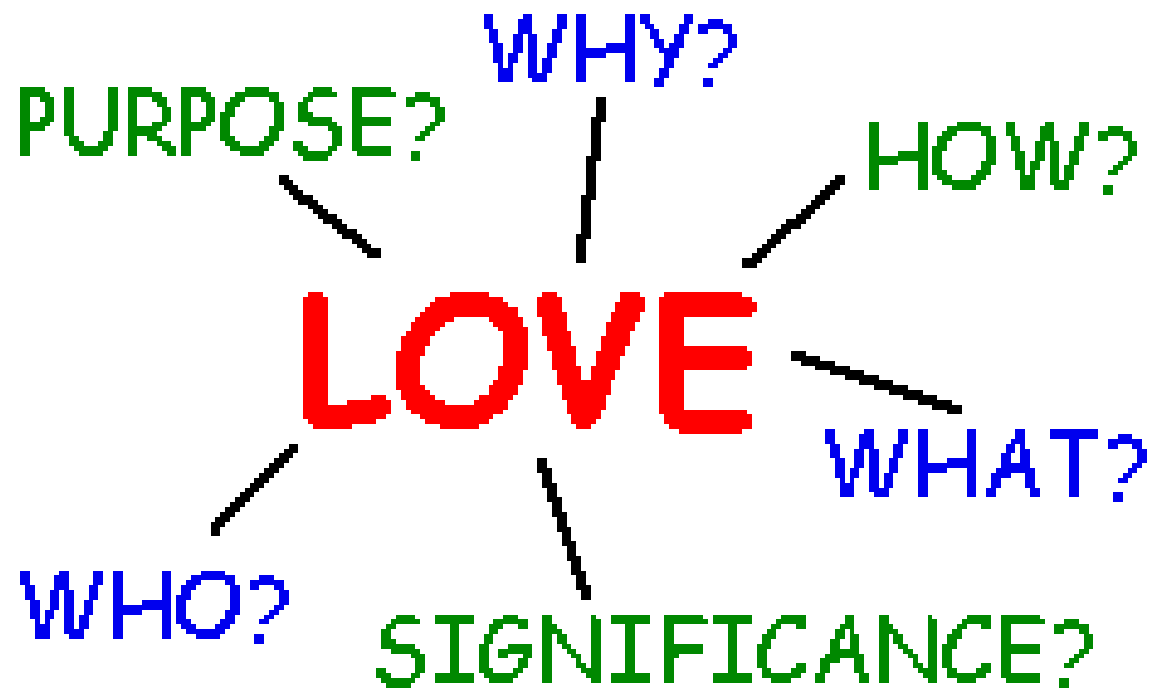

- the likenesses and differences between two places, like Bandung and Jakarta;
- the similarities and differences between two religions, like Christianity and Islam;
- two people, like my brother and myself.

Process Essay

- describes how something is done
- explains actions that should be performed in a series
- explain in detail how to accomplish a specific task
- could be in the form of step-by-step instructions,

Expository Essay

- explanation of a short theme, idea or issue
- try to pin down the meaning of a specific word, or define an abstract concept
- to present, completely and fairly, other people's views or to report about an event or a situation
- presents a subject in detail, apart from criticism, argument, or development

Persuasive/Argumentative Essay

- to persuade the reader to the writer's point of view
- try to convince others to agree with the writer's opinion
- may argue openly, or it may attempt to subtly persuade the reader by using irony or sarcasm