Exercise 1:

Situation

You are in charge of programming at a renowned academic institution called Golra Morr University. The new term has already started on 1st Jan 2020. A copy of the training programme is placed on the notice board. However, students are not strictly following the programme. All students must adhere to the schedule since 75% attendance is mandatory for appearing in the final exams.

Director Academics says to you:

It is 1st February. I'd like to know why students even after a period of one month of the commencement of the term are not adhering to training programme. I've noticed that some students loiter around in corridors or roam about on pavements in front of the academic blocks during class hours. I would also like to know if the students are in knowledge of the training programme and exam rules. Please apprise me by tomorrow who is responsible for all this mess-up and what steps should be taken to solve the problem permanently.

Task

Write a memo to Director Academics with reference to his observation. It should cover the following aspects:

- a. Timely issuance of training programme.
- b. Identifying people responsible for its implementation.
- c. Referring to University Rules about attendance and exams
- d. Suggesting a solution.

Subject: Adherence to Training Programme

- 1. Training Programme for the current academic year, duly approved, was handed over along with exam rules to all HODs on 1st Jan 2010 for further dissemination and implementation. Copies of the same are also placed on main notice board.
- 2. HODs may be asked to remind their respective students about adherence to subject programme and also initiate corrective measures.

Exercise: 2

Situation

You work in a reputed academic institution called Brilliant University as an assistant to the registrar, Mr Ali Imtiaz. The Institution has rules about what the students should wear, and a copy of the rules is given to everyone at the time of admission. All students must follow these rules, regardless of their academic year and department. The dress rules say that all students should wear grey trousers with a white shirt.

Mr Ali Imtiaz says to you:

I'd like you to send a memo to all the heads of departments informing them about violation of dress rules. For example, I've seen some of the students with unusually long hair. This looks very untidy. I've even seen one or two of the students wearing joggers. They need to remind students to look back over the rules they received. They should have a quiet word with any of their students not following the rules. I want you to mention in particular that during summer term wearing of tie is not compulsory. You'd better use my name in the memo.'

Task

Write a memo to all HODs about the institution's dress rules and the observation of the registrar. Ask them to ensure strict compliance.
